

AROMATHERAPY

The use of essential oils helps stimulate the olfactory memory and reassure the patient.

Odors promote neural connections, which will allow the patient to find distant memories and stimulate his cognition.